

New title in our nostalgia series

Remember the Grosvenor Hotel, the Oxford Street Picture House, the cotton trading floor at the Royal Exchange, London Road fire station, Paulden's department store, and trams down Princess Parkway?

The latest volume of The Changing Face of Manchester takes you back to the places you'll remember, showing you how they were then, and what they look like today. Historic profiles of local companies such as Joseph Holt Ltd and Lancashire Eccles Cakes Ltd and Bluebird Bus are also included for the first time.

It also goes beyond, to the mid-1800s, to the city's first free library, its first public parks, tollgates, steam tugs on the Bridgewater Canal and Manchester's Edwardian Splendour.

£12.99

Your copy of The Changing Face of Manchester Volume 3 can be bought from our offices at Number 1 Scott Place (off Deansgate) for £12.99. Alternatively it can be posted in the UK for £15.60 or abroad for £19.20 (worldwide). Please make cheques or postal orders payable to 'MEN Syndication' and send to: The Changing Face of Manchester Vol 3, MEN Syndication, Number 1 Scott Place, Manchester M3 3RN. You can also order your copy of the book by calling the Order Hotline now on 0800 9888003

Name:

Address:

..... Postcode:

