Spiritual care of the mind, body and soul

WOKING has changed so much but the Spiritual Church has stood in Grove Road since 1969.

One half of the church was formerly a stable belonging to the property, which was built in 1870. The original spiritualist church, which was built in the 1930s, stood on the corner of Bath Road and Commercial Street, in Woking.

On Saturday October 27 Woking Spiritualist Church is holding a mind, body and soul day from 10am to 4pm and everyone is welcome.

There will be a number of special events throughout the day, including a raffle, private readings, crystal healing, shiatsu and colour reading with oils.

Why not try Indian head massage, handwriting analysis or angel card reading? There will also be refreshments and a gift stall. For more information call 01483 831384.

Dream rooms at Crownwood

CROWNWOOD Home Improvements has seen a marked increase in business, with home extension and replacement kitchen enquiries particularly brisk since moving down Horsell High Street to its new showroom in January 2005.

The company sees its strength in being a one-stop shop for home improvements and its own experienced workforce can offer every trade and service required.

Most kitchen refurbishment projects require more than just a new kitchen being fitted.

There are often structural changes, new windows, floor coverings, heating, electrics and so on.

Being able to place all that work with one professional, highly-organised company takes a huge weight off the shoulders of busy householders or those who are nervous about coordinating such things.

Portfolio

Gary Paice, managing director, sees next year being more of the same, with a wider-than-ever kitchen portfolio at prices that are surprisingly keen.

He said: "We don't offer silly 50% sales with reductions from over-inflated prices.

"We just offer high-quality furniture at prices that are extraordinary value for money."

Gary designs and oversees every project from start to finish and takes great satisfaction from making dreams come true.

With Christmas fast approaching, there are just a few slots available to make sure you have your new dream kitchen by the holiday. Call Crownwood on 01483 722555 or visit www.extendyourhome.co.uk.
