The Pack Saddle Inn Chazey Heath

The Pack Saddle Inn in Chazey Heath near Mapledurham, provides excellent home cooked food in a cosy, friendly atmosphere.

The lovely country pub prides itself on its delicious homemade food, made using fresh ingredients, by a kitchen that is passionate about food. There's no microwaveable fast food here, just good, honest pub grub so it is reasonable to assume that if you visit the popular pub during a busy period, you may have to wait a little while to be served. You can rest assured, however, that when it arrives, you'll be glad you waited. The quote on the menu reads: "We do not do fast food, just good food as fast as we can".

The pub has a first-rate, secure, children's play area outdoors and a large garden and patio area for making the most of the sun. The interior is traditional in decor with a roaring open fire in the winter, separate smoking and non-smoking areas.

Proprietor Paul and Irene McCrystal took over The Pack Saddle Inn during September 2004. Paul passionately believes in old fashioned British cooking.

"We are a pub that does good food, we use ingredients and if possible sourced locally, our sausage, faggots are made specially for us. We make virtually all our menu including real gravy and our Sunday lunch is extremely popular. We are only too pleased to help with any dietary requirements such as coeliacs and diabetics"

Why not make The Pack Saddle Inn your next stop for truly great pub food?
